Minor in Business and Development Studies

Description

The Minor Concept

A minor gives you the opportunity of having a second specialization in your degree. The minor is a bundle of three to four electives that can be chosen separately but if chosen together rewards a minor.

Purpose

The Business and Development Studies minor provides a one semester concentrated introduction to development issues from a business perspective. The minor is designed for students that want to build specific qualifications on business and development related issues to complement their master degree specialization.

Structure

The below table lists the structure and the ECTS credits of the individual courses. The course descriptions are available in the online course catalogue. Direct links are inserted in the below table.

Course	ECTS
Business strategy in Developing Countries and Emerging Markets	7.5
International Business and Economic Development	7.5
Governance and Development	7.5

Content

The minor consists of three courses that each take up key aspects of business activity in developing countries and emerging markets. The courses complement each other and are designed to build a comprehensive understanding of business in developing countries and emerging markets.

Examinations

The minor consists of the examinations listed below. The learning objectives and the regulations of the individual examinations are prescribed in the online course catalogue. Direct links to the individual examinations are inserted in the table below.
